

SPEAKER CRONIN TO INVESTIGATE

Collection Taken Up for City Employees' Ball.

SAID TO BE UNAUTHORIZED

LARGE SUMS GIVEN TO THE THREE PROMOTERS.

Downtown Business Houses Subscribed Liberally to the Fund—Men Are Not Connected With the Departments.

Speaker James H. Cronin of the House of Delegates said Friday afternoon that he was preparing for introduction before the House Friday night a resolution to investigate the canvass being made by three men who say they are raising funds for a city employees' ball, for which they are said to have represented the House of Delegates.

"Why, what are you talking about?" asked the speaker.

"The House of Delegates' picnic," "There will be no picnic," "Well, we paid three men $50 for that purpose, anyway."

Cronin says that he has since been carrying on an inquiry on his own account and that he is convinced that there are irregularities about the fund.

He says he has learned that several persons have contributed large sums to the fund.

Speaker Cronin is not the first person to be interested particularly in the ball. Mr. C. L. Lake, secretary and treasurer of the Union Bros. Dry Goods Co., has been carrying on an investigation for several days.

It was prompted by the appearance of three men at his office with a request for subscriptions to the city employees' ball.

They gave their names as Thomas Casey of the water rates office at the City Hall, J. O'Brien of the collector's office and Ed Marshall of the lighting department.

Although they carried letters of recommendation from William Faulkner, secretary to Chief of Police Kiehl, and Nick Griffin, assistant clerk of the House of Delegates, Mr. Lake thought it best to develop the fact that none of the men was connected with the offices named.

Mr. Lake inquired of Chief Kiehl if the police department approved the ball. The chief replied that he didn't know anything about it.

Mr. Lake then inquired of Nick Griffin if the House of Delegates approved the ball. Griffin replied that he didn't know anything about it.

Assistant Clerk Griffin of the House says that he didn't know anything about the men except what Faulkner and Kiehl told him.

Says Faulkner Recommended Them.

"If Billy Faulkner had not written a letter to me and recommended to recommend the men I should never have done so, for I had never seen them before," is his explanation. "Both he and Kiehl said they were good fellows and deserving. But when I saw them I was not just right I got the letter back."

Kiehl says that he, Faulkner and Griffin are getting up the ball. "We are all interested alike, and so are some of the members of the House," he told the Post-Dispatch. "Faulkner and Griffin wrote letters recommending the men so that they could collect money more easily."

I don't know whether there has been any crooked work or not, but if there has, Faulkner, Griffin and I will see that everybody is treated right."

We are giving this and we are going to give it right."

The ball will take place on the night of Oct. 5 at Northwest Turner Hall. We have the contract already and it will be a leading social event."

"We have employed solicitors because the employees of the city can't get out to do the work."

Kiehl was surprised when he learned that Griffin and Faulkner had declared they had withdrawn their letters.

"They shouldn't have done that," he said, "for they knew the boys are all right. They certainly know the ball is going to come off all right."

SUE FOR ALIMONY.

Second Husband Joins Wife in the Petition.

Mrs. Helena Gerson and her second husband, Edward Gerson, filed suit Friday in the St. Louis Circuit Court against Henry H. Kayser, the first husband, and others to secure a judgment against certain property said to belong to Kayser for $2000 gross alimony.

The other defendants are Max Dietrich, C. A. Schmale, Gustav Kayser and John Kayser.

The petition says that Mrs. Gerson was married to Herman H. Kayser in February, 1890.

At that time, it is alleged, she secured a judgment for $2000 gross alimony against Kayser.

None of this amount, it is said, has ever been paid and Kayser is alleged to be insolvent.

She is further charged with having placed deeds of trust upon a lot at Twenty-second street and Chouteau avenue and other property belonging to her for the alimony judgment cannot be held against it.

She asks that the deeds be declared void and the real estate be declared by Court so that it can be levied on for the collection of the alimony judgment.

NEGRO'S DISTORTED FOOT GIVES PROMISING CLEW.

THE MAN HUNT IN MISSOURI

Vivid Description of the Search for "Bossie" Francis Told by a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent at the Scene.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HOLDEN, Mo., Aug. 30.—At 1 o'clock today a posse of about 50 men left Holden for the wire bridge about four miles north. It was reported that John Hardin, the uncle of "Bossie" Francis, had come to Holden Thursday and bought a lot of groceries. When he got to the bridge, which is about two miles from his home, and the coal mine into which the bloodhounds were sent Thursday afternoon, he is reported to have thrown off several packages of food for Francis. It had just rained and tracks were found in the mud near the bridge. It is claimed that the impression of Francis' distorted right foot is among the tracks. The posse believes that it is now on the track of the murderer.

From a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

HOLDEN, Mo., Aug. 30.—For three days 1000 men from two counties, with guns and bloodhounds, have been hunting for "Bossie" Francis, the negro who attempted to outrage and then murdered Miss May Henderson from this part of the state.

The search has so far proved fruitless, and this afternoon many of the hunters are returning to their homes.

The feeling is gaining that Francis has escaped from this part of the state.

In the searching parties were men gathered from the towns of Warrensburg, Odessa, Holden, Chapel Hill, Centerville, Hazel Hill, Pittsville, Elm, Columbus and Greendoor and the farming country about them.

From 300 to 500 men will continue the search.

This man hunt is one of the most remarkable spectacles ever witnessed in Missouri. Everyone has followed his ordinary pursuit and joined in the chase. There is no boasting, and no threats.

The hunters are grim men bent on a terrible revenge if they find the guilty man, for there can be no doubt that Francis, failing in his purpose to outrage Miss Henderson, murdered her. Every road in Columbus township hung heavy with the dust raised by the cavalcades of determined men.

IDEAL HIDING PLACE.

Columbus Township in Johnson County is an ideal hiding place. Its topography is admirably adapted for the sequestration of a criminal. Its surface is made up of hills and hollows for the most part covered with dense forest and undergrowth. Along Blackwater creek and in the "dark corners," so called on account of its negro population, are mines with chambers in which an armed man could hold an army at bay.

Through this undergrowth and in these mines men have crawled on their hands and knees searching for Francis, who has been known to most of them since his childhood. That he has escaped capture is remarkable, for it would seem that every foot of ground within miles of the scene of his crime has been searched, and every country road and every mile of railroad has been carefully guarded and patrolled. The general opinion of the country people is that Francis has been hidden and is being succored by the negroes who live thereabouts.

Francis was born in the vicinity and has many relatives living there. His grandmother was Cato Francis, who was a grantee boy for Gen. Stonewall Jackson, and was respected by the whites and revered by the negroes of the county. Francis is intelligent and possessed of much cunning, and with no funds and nothing to eat has managed to elude himself or work his way out of the country. There are rumors a-plenty. Every hour a new tip comes in as to his whereabouts and a posse is hurried off, generally to disappointment. They Thursday night it was rumored in Holden that Francis had been seen hurrying toward Post Oak, five miles south of here, at noon, while the men of Columbus township were scouring the woods in the vicinity of Hyatt's farm with bloodhounds. A posse was sent toward Post Oak on his trail and had not returned late Thursday night.

Opinion as to whether Francis has escaped the country is divided, but the farmers and citizens of Johnson County will not relinquish their search until he is found, and when he is captured he will be killed without mercy and probably on the scene of his crime.

Wednesday night four men, Joe and Charles Briscoe, cousins of Francis, and Emmet Davenport, all negroes, and Peter Lannan, a white mine worker, were arrested and sent to the county jail in Warrensburg, for attempting to aid Francis in escape. The general opinion is that they were nearly dead. The sheriff took Lannan to jail to protect him from possible harm.

PREPARATIONS FOR MAN HUNT.

The scenes at Chap. Hyatt's house in Columbus at noon Thursday, were characteristic of the people of the community. Bloodhounds had been sent for to track Francis, and as early as 9 o'clock in the morning people began to gather. Hyatt's farm is the largest and richest in the county. His house would be an ornamental to a city street. He is a rich cattle breeder, and his relatives and friends are the leaders of the social circles in the county and in the towns of the county.

Two bloodhounds were brought from Manhattan, Kan., and arrived at noon in charge of J. W. Wright. They were both females, 1 year old, not long ago tracked and shot.

TOUCHING ERRAND OF EMORY HITCH OF PEORIA, ILL.

HE SAYS MRS. HITCH ELOPED WITH THEIR LITTLE ONES HE CAME TO RECLAIM HER.

WOMAN SAID TO HAVE BEEN IN ST. LOUIS WITH A TRAPEZE PERFORMER NAMED MOLLETT—LETTER FROM THEM AT BARDWELL, KY.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

EMORY HITCH OF PEORIA, ILL., leading his two boys by their hands, searched in St. Louis and Belleville for his wife until his last penny had been spent.

He came to a standstill in Belleville Thursday afternoon with nothing for himself or the boys to eat, nowhere to sleep and no means of getting back home.

Six weeks ago Hitch had a happy home in Peoria. He had been married ten years to a pretty and vivacious woman. They had two children, boys of 9 and 5.

A month before that Ole Mollett, a dark, dingy sort of fellow, had arrived in the town, had made the acquaintance of Emory Hitch, who was a clerk in a carpet store, and had been invited to use home of Hitch.

He was working at a trade then, but he said that he had been a trapeze performer. Mrs. Hitch became fascinated with him, but her husband suspected nothing.

One day while her husband was at the store, Mrs. Hitch kissed the boys good-by and told them to be good until she came back. She left the house, leaving her husband nor her children have seen her since.

Ole Mollett disappeared the same day and has not been seen in Peoria since.

Hitch did not know where he had been. He believed she had fallen under some sort of unnatural influence. He sought for her diligently.

At last he learned from a friend in St. Louis that his wife and Mollett had been stopping at a boarding house kept by a Mrs. Johnson at Leffingwell avenue and Eugene street. This friend had seen her there and she had told him that if she should not come home again, he would have to go back to him.

Hitch concluded that if she was to see him and the children she would be certain to return to her deserted home.

Sunday morning he dressed the boys as his wife had been wont to dress them on Sundays and came to St. Louis. He did not find his wife at the boarding house, but Mrs. Johnson had promised the couple that she would not let them away, but she had given them a letter which she had received from Mrs. Hitch, announcing her arrival at Bardwell, and she had said that "Ole" had met her at the train. There was a postscript which said: "Both asked her not to 'give them away.'"

There was a possibility in the mind of Mrs. Johnson that the boys were being kept at Edgewood Park, a circus place, and she had written a letter to the circus manager to get them out.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 30.—J. N. Galbreath, superintendent of the northern division of the Mexican National Railroad, and C. H. Yeager, a business man of Laredo, say the conditions in Zapata County are pitiful. They have visited the county and have seen the suffering of the people.

They say absolutely no green thing grows in the county this season and the corn crop was short last summer.

After scouring the city of the Zapata County relief committee discovered that there was not a carload of corn for sale in San Antonio. A car was ordered from Kansas City, but the delay is likely to prove disastrous, as the situation in the famine-stricken county is 60 miles from the railroad, and the people are suffering.

The Texas Legislature has not yet shown signs of coming to the rescue, although it has been urged to extend aid.

JOSEPH MAAS HAS LEFT HOME

Reproved by His Mother for a Slight Offense This 16-Year-Old Boy Has Disappeared—Mother Is Heartbroken.

Joseph Maas, aged 16, left his home, 238 St. Louis avenue, at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning to go to work and has not been seen since.

The boy did not report to his employers, the R. A. Linde Carpet Co., 307 North Broadway, at all Wednesday and his relatives are much alarmed.

His leaving home is attributed to some neighborhood gossip concerning him, which was carried to his mother Tuesday night. He was carried to his mother Tuesday night. He was carried to his mother Tuesday night.

Otherwise Joseph is a hard-working, home-loving boy and has never evinced a desire to leave home. His aged mother is almost heartbroken over his disappearance. The boy is described as having brown hair, large blue eyes and a fair complexion.

He is about 5 feet 2 inches in height and is strong, but not stout.

Wednesday morning he wore his working clothes, which consisted of a soft hat, heavy shoes, white and black striped trousers, checked coat and reddish persimmon shirt made full in the front.

He had no money with him and had evidently made no plans for leaving home.

HOUSE COMBINE SEEKS TO TAKE ALL AUTHORITY

Would Take From Board of Public Improvements That Body's Administrative Functions and Appoint a Fender Commission—City Counselor Schnurmacher Calls It a Startling Departure.

A coroner's jury has decided that the death of little Morris Cytron, who was killed by a transit car Aug. 27, at Ninth and Wash streets, was due to the "defective fender with which the car was equipped," and further that the Transit Co. was culpably negligent in not having the car better equipped with life-saving apparatus.

The bill now before the municipal assembly, which would compel the transit company to use good fenders, is nearly three months old.

During the greater part of its existence it has slumbered in committee.

The House of Delegates, after deliberating on the Council measure three weeks, proposes by the amendments made to deprive the Board of Public Improvements of the authority to select fenders, and, instead, to vest this administrative power in the House of Delegates.

"If that were done," said City Counselor Schnurmacher, when asked for an opinion as to the House amendments by Secretary of the Council, "it is a startling departure from legislative customs would be established. I do not say, because I have not looked into the question closely, that the House amendments involve a violation of the charter. I do know, however, that for the Municipal Assembly to assume this administrative function would be to fix an unheard-of precedent."

The resolution was presented to the City Council for action Friday evening. There is no disposition on the part of the members of the Council to approve the bill in its present shape.

"Surely we do not see our way clear to interfere with the Board of Public Improvements by depriving it of its legal functions. What we want to do is make the House show its hand on this measure."

"In the first place, the amendment proposing the joint railroad committee be composed of the joint railroad committee of the Municipal Assembly."

"Now there are only three members of the Council railroad committee, while the House has a committee of five. The Board of Public Improvements, which is the body that has the duty of the Board of Public Improvements."

"A majority vote would decide any committee differences, and it is said that the Board of Public Improvements would be composed of the joint railroad committee of the Municipal Assembly."

"The House received the Council bill to exception was taken to any of its features save that the delegates to the Board of Public Improvements be composed of the joint railroad committee of the Municipal Assembly."

"The House met twice a week and few absences were reported, yet Mr. Howard, Capt. Boyce, vice-chairman of the Council Railroad Committee, and Mr. Howard, vice-chairman of the Council Railroad Committee, did not report the bill."

CORN CAN'T BE REPOLLENIZED

Botanist Irish of St. Louis Doubts Illinois Report.

SECOND POLLEN IS IMPOSSIBLE

HE EXPLAINS WHY RAINS HAVE INCREASED CROP.

Portions Once Fertilized Cannot Be Affected, but New Bloom May Benefit Parts Not Touched by Pollen Hitherto.

Reports received from points in nearby Illinois are to the effect that farmers believe that their corn crop has practically been renewed and revived by a second growth of the "tassel." This, it is alleged, is brought about by the fact that the pollen from the new tassels repollinizes the ears through the silk and brings out to full maturity the grains that would otherwise be aborted.

The "pollen" is the microscopic dust that forms on the lower part of the tassel. It is blown by the wind and lights on the silk that comes out of the end of the husk from the and of the ear. The pollen is carried down the silk strands to the cob. Here it is used to produce the grain, being a life-giving substance. Each silk has from one to three "shoots." In each of these an ear is formed and the pollen on the cob gives identity to grains. For this reason a row of white corn, planted beside a row of yellow or red, will produce ears of mixed grains, for the pollen of one tassel not only fertilizes the ears of its own stalk, but by the blowing of the wind is distributed for several feet around, assisting in the fertilization of the ears on many stalks.

The claim made is that the newly-developed pollen on the tassels, brought out by the rains, is repollinizing the undeveloped grains through the hitherto latent silks from those tassels and thus the ear is thus being brought to fullness of grain.

This theory is disputed by authorities in botany. They say that repollination is impossible, in fact a freak that Dame Nature never indulges in. H. C. Irish, assistant director of Missouri Botanical Garden, made the following statement:

It is utterly impossible for a kernel of corn to be refertilized, that is to receive pollen the second time. Each grain of pollen produces a kernel of corn and if the growth of the grain is checked, it remains so; it cannot take on new growth.

In the developing stage of corn there are only a few days the life of the ear of corn, whether dry or not, that the pollen will fertilize. Neither is it possible for the flower to receive new pollen and there may not but there may not provide the first crop does not absorb all strength.

In Case of a New Crop.

In case of a new crop of flowers there, of course, would be new pollen, and this pollen might be distributed on the unfertilized part of the ear, but it could not cause new growth to the part already fertilized. One part of the ear might be pollinated, while the other part may have partly developed and be ready to receive new pollen.

It is an unusual thing to see a part of an ear of corn ripened while the other part is just maturing. It is hardly possible that it would not all be fertilized at one time, if it had any opportunity. It is in an open cornfield, with pollen flying all around.

It is the inclination to believe the cause of the increase in the yield is that a part of the ears were held back on account of the dry weather and the rains caused new flowers and new pollen and the ears were in a proper state to receive fertilization and have developed very rapidly.

The increase in the yield can be safely estimated at from 15 to 20 per cent. It is the first crop. Corn will not ripen after the first frost.

It is thought that if the country were to have very much rain now all the vegetable kingdom would suffer greatly. At present all vegetation is in a dangerous condition, as it is very much like late fall. The wet season has commenced and the rains would cause a new growth, which would be too tender to withstand the winter. It appears, but so far he has failed to attend to them.

There are many factions among the local Republicans and the report was repeated at Thursday night's meeting may be seen from the following list of those present:

SPRINKLING CART MAKES WADING PLACE

Boys at Jefferson Avenue and Pestalozzi Street Eagerly Accept Opportunity to "Go in Wading."

City boys who have no "purling brooks" in which to wade and who have never felt the eager nip of the grass in the old swimming hole are keen to seize every chance to go wading. This group of youngsters found great sport in a pool of water made by the sprinkling cart on Jefferson Avenue and Pestalozzi street. The lads had a fine time until Patrolman Brant, "the singing policeman," came and drove them away.

WON CHURCH AND BRIDE PLAN FOR HARMONY

Rev. Peter Kittel Married Miss Mary Peter After Long Courtship.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS ARRANGE TO GET TOGETHER.

RECORDER HAHN AT THE HELM

Object Said to Be to Capture the Next City Convention for the Hahnites.

At a meeting of about 30 well-known Republican politicians in the Burlington building Thursday night, a "harmony" committee was appointed to do what it could to smooth over the differences between the Merchants' League Club, the Good Government Club and the St. Louis Republican Club and get them to work together.

The committee consists of Judge John A. Talty, Judge William Zachritz, Albert Hahn, Sam D. Hodgson and Dr. Henry Lloyd.

Friday night's meeting was the fourth of a series of caucuses that have been held weekly by a little coterie of Republican workers and office holders.

Recorder of Deeds Hahn, who is secretary of the Republican city committee, sent out notices for the first meeting and was credited with being the moving spirit of the enterprise.

The object is said to be the capture of the next Republican city convention. At any rate others who are not in this particular mood of mind are trying to shape things so that if they cannot control the next Republican city convention they can in any event be in a position where they cannot be overlooked by any other faction that may predominate.

But the Hahnites are not finding their little organization scheme progressing any too smoothly.

At first meeting Committee Chairman "Tub" Becker of the Seventh ward was not invited. It is said that he left forth a crowd that resounded through the Republican stronghold of South St. Louis. He vowed, it is said, that there would be no organization of Republicans, at least so far as the Seventh Ward was concerned, and was in vain.

Goldburn H. Wilson, member of the legislature, Dr. Henry Lloyd, Sam D. Hodgson, W. H. Blake, J. D. Meyer, John W. Walker, Harry T. Troland, Denby, Albert Griffin, William M. McClain, M. D. Stral, Thomas Carl, Henry Land, J. H. Graham, Michael J. Long, Justice T. F. W. Zimmerman, Henry Koenig, George Galloway, H. C. Peterson, Fred Busner, Edward H. Bickley, Charles F. Stelz and J. C. Peterson.

Dr. Wilmor's appointment of the committee was the result of speeches by Koenig and Galloway. Recorder Hahn was not present, being in Louisville, Ky.
